

Lab #6

Write a class named `PhoneBookEntry` that has fields for a person's name and phone number. The class should have a constructor and appropriate accessor and mutator methods. Then write a program that creates at least five `PhoneBookEntry` objects and stores them in an `ArrayList`. Use a loop to display the contents of each object in the `ArrayList`.